

The Rainforest Big Lunch - Illustration challenge

Are you an amazing artist? Are you passionate about stories?

Having read 'The Rainforest Big Lunch', we would like you to imagine that this story is going to be turned into a book and have a go at designing the dust jacket (using the template on the back of this sheet).

We would like your illustrations to be bright, colourful and represent the characters or themes of the story. We would love to use some of your illustrations in one of our onsite workshops here at the Eden Project! Plus, millions of people take part in community Big Lunches all around the UK each June, and it would be amazing to share some of your illustrations with them too!

The deadline for sending your illustrations is Friday 30 May 2025. Interested in The Big Lunch? Find out more and join the fun!

Once you have designed your dust jacket, either take a photo and email it to: communities@edenproject.com
